

Armour, Philip D.

Oct. 18, 1894

PDA to JJH, General Correspondance

"Your nice letter of the 17th is just laid on my desk, and I thank you very much for it... I hope you will never come to town without looking in upon me, as there seems to be a very warm spot in the hearts of all the Armours for you, and I wish our boys could know each other, as the time is not far distant when the mantle of both of us will have to fall on them."
