

Bassford, Edward P. May 2, 1877

JJH to Bassford, JJH Letterbook 2/2/77-2/22/77, p 69.

"I have let the plumbing and gasfitting to Major Wilson who will at once start on the work--I thought by moving the partition back one joice where we closed the door along side the chimney we could do better in placing the water closets and disposing of the pipes--please see that the Bricklayers do not break up too many bricks--They are a little careless. I leave tonight and will be gone for nearly two weeks."