

Broadwater, C.A.

July 9, 1886

Hill to Broadwater

Am looking for arrival of Col. Dodge's profile.
"I do not think the Commission can report against removing the Indians away from the International Boundary. As to the Railroad Right-of-way through northern Montana, I do not think we will have any serious trouble. I am quite sure the President felt it his duty to take action that a better knowledge of the situation would not have been taken. I think with a friend of mine that the President would be greatly benefitted by a trip to the West." Maginnis arrives tonight & then we'll know

"what course to take."

JJH LetterBook, 3/22/86 - 10/22/86, p. 378