Hill to A. B. Stickney

There is a scientific gentleman here, Prof. Kenaston, whom I have engaged to go with the party to meet Rogers from the East side of the Mountains as geologist naturalist etc. Mr. Kenaston is also an Engineer and can make himself very useful in the way of computations and making any reconaissance or short journey that would otherwise take the time of an engineer and probably lay out the party for the time being. Herewith I enclose memos, letters, and instructions left by Major Rogers for party going from this side." Have you selected the engineer to take charge?
