

Eastern Railway of Minnesota

September 24, 1897

J.J.Hill to Baring Bros.

"The Eastern Minnesota Railway is a proprietary company of the Great Northern Railway through ownership of the entire share capital. It comprises large terminal yards, docks, elevators, and warehouses at Duluth and Superior, the Western extremity of the Great Lakes, and 72 miles of road extending in a Southwesterly direction to a connection with the Great Northern system at Hinckley."

General Correspondence by Date.