

Gibson, Paris

May 27, 1916.

Paris Gibson to James J. Hill.

Further investigations of the manganese claims are out of the question until warmer weather, but arrangements have been made by W.A. Stephens for an expert examination by the U.S. Steel Corporation, probably about the middle of June.

General Correspondence by Date.