February 14, 1886

W.G.Murphy to James J. Hill.

"In a conversation yesterday with Alexander Griggs of our city concerning the deficiencies existing between the legal relation of wheat buyers and wheat sellers he informed [me] that you and he had discussed the subject and that you presented to him some very practical ideas in reference to the control of elevators which he believed would be beneficial to the agricultural interests of Dakota if passed into laws and that there were both he and you desired the matter brought before the public with that end in view. If not asking too much will you kindly write n setting forth as fully as your leisure will permit the ideas in question..."
