

Harvard University-
Hill Transportation
Professorship

June 12, 1915

Thos. W. Lamont to J.J.Hill.

"You will, I am sure, be interested to learn that the initial fund for the foundation of the James J. Hill Professorship of Transportation at Harvard has now been completed, and that on Commencement Day this sum, $125,000., will be presented to the President and Fellows of Harvard, and will be duly announced by President Lowell in his Commencement Day speech to the alumni. The deed of gift, which will be signed by the original Committee, has been drawn up in the form of which venture to attach you a copy."

General correspondence by date