

Hill, J.J.-Author

March 10, 1909

Walter H. Page to J. J. Hill.

"After I saw you, I went to Madison [Wis.] especially to see the maps that have been made there under Professor Taylor's direction..."

"I have made an arrangement which will permit the publication of as many of these maps as we desire in the WORLD'S WORK, to accompany your article on wheat &c. For other articles out of your book, I am looking for correspondingly good illustrative material."

General correspondence v date