

Hill, J.J. - Education interests March 3, 1909

Hill to Rev. Leon S. Koch, Melrose, Minnesota

Fertility of soil is vanishing fast and we cannot wait fifteen to eighteen years for children to grow up and go to agricultural college. "By that time the destruction of the soil will have so far advanced that many of the farms will not pay for cultivating. Gives his ideas on wisdom of denominational colleges as against godless state university. Is now trying to put "a number of our Northwest denominational colleges on their feet."

JJH LetterBook, 3/14/08 - 3/17/10, p. 208