

Kinsey, De Witt

Partner of Hill, Griggs and Newcomb in a merchandising and transportation business on the Red River. Hill, Griggs & Co. owned $5/6$ and Kinsey $1/6$ of the company.

See "Exhibit B" attached to articles of co partnership between Hill, Griggs and Acker, January 1, 1872.

In the Farley Suit, J.J.Hill made the statement, "I had a stock of goods at Pembina in 1871, and I think in 1872 in charge of a man named Kinsey."
