

LeRoi Mining Co.,Ltd.

Correspondence to and by Hill's estate.

This mining enterprise centered in London with Baring Bros. in charge. In the United States George F. Baker, Jr., for himself and Hill bought a large part of the stock. The mine was in Br. Columbia at Rossland, the smelter at Northport, Washington. By 1910 the company was in liquidation and so continued until after Hill's death in 1916, when the remaining assets owned by him were put into the United Securities. Meantime the mine was sold for $250,000 to the Trail (B.C.) smelter interests. The smelter late in 1915 was sold to the Day interests of Wallace, Idaho. The product of the mine was gold and copper. See especially A.J.McMillan to L.W. Hill, Dec. 30, 1916. Copies of some of the correspondence beyond Hall's death were typed for his files before the originals were sent to the L.W.Hill Collection in 1963.
