

Litchfield, Edwin C.

Litchfield resided in Brooklyn, New York. "He was a lawyer of ability and distinction, and a member of the bar of the supreme court of the United States."

(From Brief and Argument on part of defendants, Edward H. Litchfield, Executor, Complainant vs. Hamilton Browne, J.J.Hill, Trustee and the Clyde Coal Co., May term, 1893 of Circuit Court of U.S., page 3.)

Litchfield owned coal lands in Iowa. Some of these lands were bought by J.J.Hill and became part of the holdings of the Clyde Coal Company.
