

McKenzie, Alexander

December 17, 1896

Hill to Mark A. Hanna

"Today I have met Mr. [Alex.] McKenzie ... on his way West from Washington ... [he] will stop to to see you in Cleveland. [Letter is sent by him] ... I hope you will talk matters over fully with him ... his information is better than that of any one else you will meet. He has lived in the country for twenty-five years, and knows it from end to end. You can place absolute reliance upon what he says or does."

JJH Vol. marked "Letters to "A. Hanna, 1896" p. 4