McNought, James

August 5, 1895

McNought to Hill "I am reliably informed here this afternoon that Mr. Cromwell is publicly boasting that he has succeeded in breaking up the plan agreed upon by Mr. Seaman[sic], Adams, and others with you in London, and that he has telegraphed this to the N.P. receivers and others in the Northwest."