

Metropolitan Museum of Art. Nov. 2, 1887.

J. Oehme of M.Knoedler & Co. to Hill.

"There will be also an exhibition next week of the Miss Wolfe collection of paintings bequeathed by her to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, an institution which contains now also Rosa Bonheur's Horse-fair, Meissonier's 1807, and other important works, so good opportunities of seeing fine paintings are offered to all lovers of art."

General Correspondence