

Miller, Roswell

August 23, 1899

Roswell Miller to J.J.Hill.

"You cannot hurt us much by any extension you may make in our Territory - we can hurt you very seriously: and we cannot afford to sit still when any company is extending into our Territory, however much we regret the necessity of extending into their Territory."

General correspondence by date