

North Dakota-Harvest July 26, 1899

Oliver Dalrymple to J. J. Hill.

"North Dakota has a heavy crop to handle and men are not coming into the country as in years past."

"The only sure way to get harvest help is for the companies to give them a nominal fare, say $1.00 in, and depend on a full fare back..."

General correspondence by date.