

Hill, James J. Paintings. May 12, 1887.

J.Oehme of Knoedler & Co. to Jas. J. Hill.

"The 'De Neuville' we intend forwarding next week, it is yet attracting greatly. A few days ago we had a visitor, an English soldier, who was present at the storming of Tel-El-Kebir, and who received two medals, one from the English government, and the other from the Khedive. This party praised highly the truthfulness of the picture, pointing out the principal actors quickly."

General Correspondence.