

Pillsbury, Charles A.

June 19, 1889

Pillsbury to JJH [telegram], General Correspondence

"Think it would facilitate matter on big trade some if you and your partners could take some of mortgage bonds; they will bear six percent interest and ought to be elegant security looks good deal as if trade would go through and that Morton Bliss would take hold in connection with English partners."