

Hill to Jacob Schiff

"It remains to get traffic matters into the hands of Mr Stubbs and Mr Miller, when we can feel that the powers acting for the several interests in making the rates, are charged with preserving the rates. It is very fortunate that both these gentlemen are old and close friends and have confidence in each other. Everything depends upon the good faith which actuates each party."

JJH LetterBook, 3/13/99 - 5/30/02, p. 339