

Sabin, D.M.

January 19, 1903

Carbon. J.J.Toomey to John D. O'Brien.

"I saw Mr. Prince of the Merchants National Bank a few days ago... He said that he had a talk with Mr. Severance, who has charge of Mrs. Sabin's affairs, and learned from him that Mr. Sabin did not leave anything except some life insurance which was payable to his wife, and that during his life time, he (Sabin) had not only exhausted all his own means, but had also spent a good deal of his wife's money."
