

Seattle, Wash.-Univ. of Wash. Nov. 13, 1905

J.T.Ronald to L.C.Gilman.

Deplores the inadequate facilities afforded by the Univ. of Wash. States that the "Chemistry Building and the Mining Building are nothing more than cheaply, loosely thrown together wooden shacks."

Mentions the University's recent opportunity to obtain a great Amer. Indian collection, "the collection having been all made within the limits of the State of Washington."

States also, "You probably noticed in the newspapers yesterday morning an account of the fact that some of our Professors were compelled to apply to a few of the private citizens of this city for funds with which to secure for the University the Oriental Exhibit at the Lewis & Clark Exposition. This shows the situation of our institution.
