

Smith, Donald A.

Chief Commissioner of the Hudson's Bay Company and represented them in America. In 1874 he represented one of the parliamentary districts in the dominion parliament in Ottawa. He resided part of the time in Winnipeg, part of the time in Montreal.

See Farley Suit, pp. 19, 20, 23.

There are many letters from Smith to Hill in the collection (1878-1889).

Smith, Donald A.

Data as to Smith's comings and goings, his health, his fishing expeditions, his views on various subjects, etc. can be gleaned from John S. Kennedy's letters in the 1870's, 1880s and 1890's. See the Kennedy calendar. See also the Geo. Stephen-D. A. Smith calendar in the J. J. Hill papers, filed in matted tray-box near the catalogue.

Smith, Donald A.

Lord Strathcon's papers were mostly burned in a Canadian fire, but some are preserved in the General Register House in Edinburgh.