

Stevens, John H. 1884.

See Stevens' statement that site of new union depot in Minneapolis is place where he built first house in Minneapolis, where the first white child was born, where the first sermon was preached, where the first election was held in Hennepin County, where the county was organized, in fact "the principal events of the early days of the city took place." See letter from John H. Stevens to Hill, September 3, 1884

General Correspondence.