

Strikes - 1894

May 12 & 14, 1894

E. T. Nichols to Hill

Loose talk re Kootenai matter and against the Great Northern, especially by H. C. Davis and Thomas Lowry who is "known to have talked to outsiders against the Gt. Nor. and particularly so of late and in connection with the strike and its settlement." A reprisal against Lowry is suggested in detail. Another strike is foretold by some, with trouble with Coxeyites possible, too.
