Wm. A. Stephens to Toomey.

"We are looking for a first class accountant to take charge of the books in this, Mr. Hill's private office. It occurred to me that you might fit the bill and I suggested your name."

... "Our books record transactions differing widely in their nature--some very large affairs requiring careful and skillful accounting. The job embraces a good deal of routine work in checking bills and statements and includes cashier's and postmaster's duties." General correspondence by date
