

Ury-Muller, A.

December 4, 1900

John S. Kennedy to J. J. Hill.

"I forgot to ask you whether you could not favor me with one of the etchings of your head which I saw when I called on Mr. Ury the other morning. I think it is a capital likeness and if you can spare one I should like very much to have it and will promise to put it in a good place where I can see it often."
