

Valley, Washington

Sept. to Dec.
1906

There are several letters and telegrams dealing with the mining venture in Valley, Washington in General correspondence, between September 1 and December 1, 1906.

Evidently J.H. Probst was sent out from St. Paul to look the situation over, and to do whatever work was necessary to get patents for some of the mining claims.

Probst arrived at Valley after six inches of snow had fallen, and so encountered many hardships. Some of the people mentioned in his letters back to Toomey are; Winchell, [Horace V.], Young, Kaiser and Clark. General correspondence by date
