2016 Local History Workshops

This year's workshop focuses on using your community's resources. Using them to make your organization stronger, and using your organization to make them strong. This happens with good planning, which happens through good listening. Using skills learned at this workshop will help you with fundraising and programming that reflects the values and experiences of your community. As always, you will have an opportunity to network with history colleagues across the state and learn their tips and techniques.
