JUNIORS

Juniors - we are incredibly impressed with you all. The way you not only wow'd your judges but also hyped each other up, took the time to get to know one another, and celebrated your fellow Minnesotans like you'd known each other your whole lives. This is what Nationals week is all about. Taking the time to make friends and create community. (We might be tearing up writing this. 😭) We hope that this week showed you how to have fun, cheer for someone you've never met before, and persevere when things get tough. 🥰

SUPPORT SQUAD

A good support squad is everything, we all know that. Looking out into a crowd and seeing loved one cheer you on is like a breath of fresh air. And for this delegation to be almost 200 people means that our supporters were strong. Parents, siblings, friends, grandparents - y'all are the real heroes. Thank you for supporting your Minnesotan. For making them feel cared for and loved on. That's really what matters. ❤️

TEACHERS

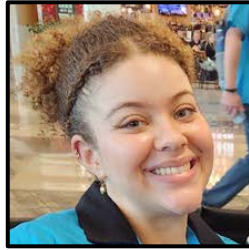

TEACHERS! We adore you all! Seriously, this program would be nothing without you. All these students have benefited tremendously from your support, knowledge, and guidance. We know how much work and dedication it takes to be in the classroom and to do History Day. This week, we got to see you all celebrate that hard work by cheering on your students, making friends with teachers from Minnesota and all over the country, and celebrate the little moments with button trading, trivia, singing, and maybe even a face mask! 🥰

DRAMA CLUB

Performance students - y'all wow us with your acting abilities every. single. time. We learned so much from the Iron Lung and Columbine to The Ladies Home Journal and the 1956 Grand Canyon Airplane Crash, and the work of the Sisters of Perpetual Indulgence and the women behind the first birth control clinic in the US, Radium Girls, and Qiu Jin, we were all moved with how you brought History to life front and center. Bravo! Encore! 🎭👏

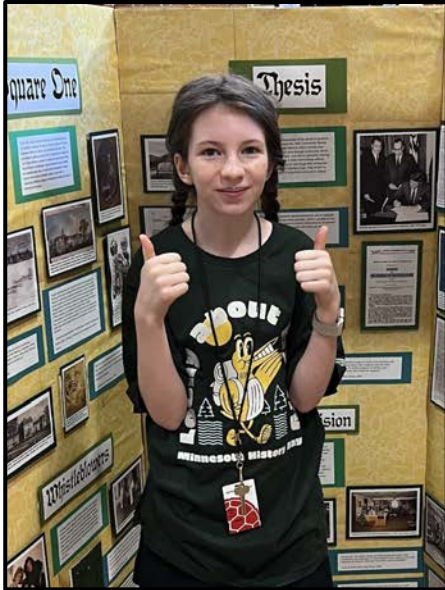

A-V CLUB

Documentary students - our future filmmakers and editors, y'all know how to tell a story. From the Iranian Revolution and Indian Child Welfare Act to Sesame Street and the NYC Street Art Revolution, and the Soweto Uprising and the work of Elizabeth Peratrovich and Alice Hamilton, to the origins of the AMBER Alert, you all wowed us with your captivating storytelling. We cannot wait to see your premiers at future film festivals! 🎬

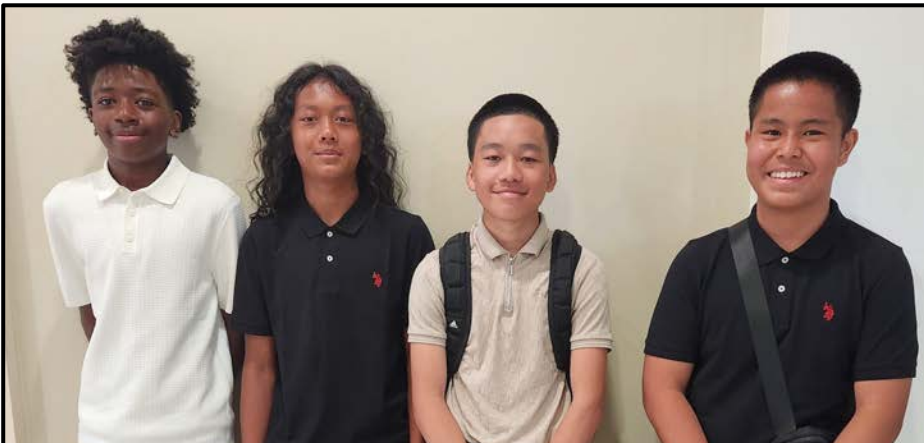

SHOP CLASS

Exhibit students - your craftsmanship blows us away. From the Freedom House Ambulance and Fannie Lou Hamer to the Fish Wars and the Community Mental Health Act, and the events of Love Canal and Jenson v. Eveleth, and the invention of Anesthesia and the General Hospital, you all created exhibits that any museum would proudly display to its visitors. We cannot wait to see your future creations, because we know that they will be stellar. 🤗

TECH SQUAD

Website students - your tech skills never fail to remind us that we're in the presence of geniuses. From the Prague Spring and Rwandan Genocide to the Cutter Incident and Food For Peace, and the work to improve schools in Los Angeles and St. Paul, to Florence Nightingale and the In re Baby M court case, you created quality web pages that show us history is anything but binary (that's a little computing joke for our audience.) 🖥️

YOUNG WRITERS WORKSHOP

Research Paper students - we literally cannot wait to read your future books. 📖 Your writing skills are to die for. From the Luce-Celler Act and the Voting Rights Act of 1965, to the work of Kate Sheppard for women's suffrage in New Zealand, and the Freedom House Ambulance Service in Pittsburgh, your writing brought history to life and wowed us with your research and arguments. Publishers watch out! ✍️

MARYLAND PREPARES FOR LARGEST MN DELEGATION IN HISTORY OF HISTORY DAY

Team Minnesota has over 190 members this year, with parents, family, friends, and teachers thrilled to support their students. Maryland officials are reportedly bracing themselves for this influx of enthusiastic Midwesterners.

The University of Maryland is especially prepared, stocking up on Minnesota staples like walleye, wild rice soup, tater tot hotdish, and scotcheroos. And to smooth over any linguistic barriers, they have distributed Minnesota phrasebooks covering terms like "ope," "you betcha," and "scoot right past ya."

And Team Minnesota is grateful for the hospitality. "Oh ya, it's just nice to feel welcome, don't ya know!" commented Henry W., a member of Team Minnesota.

Students of Team Minnesota - Oh, fer cute!

WHAT'S THE CHDDB?

Every day of the contest week, you'll get a fresh, hot off the press copy of the Camp History Day Daily Bulletin. Each CHDDB (chay-dubb) will include all of the important day to day details, some slight humor, and some fun and games. GET TO KNOW THE 2026 TEAM MINNESOTA STAFF!

Sammi Jo

Sammi Jo is a proud lefty who will take every chance she can to judge font choices. She lives off snacks and Diet Coke as she'll do everything possible to avoid grocery shopping. Her favorite place to stop in College Park is Moge Tea for cheese foam boba!

Sarah

Sarah likes to read, quilt, and try new crafts with her kids. This is her 23rd National Contest and she's still looking forward to cheesy eggs for breakfast (but she's smart enough to bring her own hot sauce this year).

Javeriah

Amongst loved ones, Javeriah is known for yapping like a silly goose and taking long anxiety walks™. But you can also find them completing a puzzle, reading another fantasy novel (and hating on it), baking delicious confections, and enjoying family time!

Ian

Keen eyed readers may have noticed that Ian is indeed not Kyle! He is excited to attend his second ever National Contest! Chat with Ian about movies, miniature painting, sports (especially football), pedestrian safety and the coolness that is the DC metro.

Kyle

What do three cats, a beagle, and a toddler have in common? Kyle is their dad! When not busy doing dad stuff, Kyle loves going on hikes, enjoying live music, trying new board games, and binging every bit of Star Wars media. May the Force be with you!

Cathy

Cathy is so excited to have achieved her lifelong dream of wearing a blue bowling shirt at Nationals! When she isn't busy watching K-dramas, she is enjoying time with Tatiana, her cat, playing games, baking, reading, and spending time with family and friends.

Maria

Maria would like you to know three things about herself: She has a chihuahua named Nala, she loves to paint and draw, and she also likes to think she could win against anyone at Mario Kart... But don't actually challenge her because she is also very competitive.

Rebecca

Rebecca loves hiking and just being outside in general, so it is great that when she is not working with History Day, she is working at Whitewater State Park. When not at work, she loves a good book, gardening, and hanging out with her big pups, Murphy and Mia!

Olive

Olive is a returning mentor excited to be on her first trip to Nationals! She loves reading and playing board and tabletop roleplaying games. When not helping students or her younger cousins, you can find her trying to knit despite having a mischievous cat and planning her next camping trip.

Marley

Marley is excited to travel with Team Minnesota to Nationals! During the trip, she hopes to catch up on her Tomodachi Life island, which has unfortunately been neglected as of late... When not on her Switch, she's usually running around Minneapolis, hanging out with her cats, or enjoying a TV marathon at home.

WELCOME CEREMONY GUEST SPEAKER EXCITES NATION

What do you think? Hologram or ghost?

National History Day just announced this year's Welcome Ceremony guest speaker and turns out it's the iconic musical genius and Minnesota native Prince!

Listen closely and you can hear the screams of excitement throughout College Park. Our very own Aubree D. was reported exclaiming "I've always wanted to attend one of his concerts, I hope he plays Purple Rain!"

When asked if he would be staying all week to sign autographs, Prince smiled ruefully, saying his schedule was too full. However, Grace N. seems to be asking the hard hitting questions, "How did they manage to secure the late Prince for the ceremony? Do you think he's a hologram or a ghost?"

NEW NHD CANADA AFFILIATE CREATES WORLDWIDE ZINC SHORTAGE

In anticipation for the forecasted high demand for their debut button, members of the NHD Canada affiliate have bought 2,220 metric tons of zinc, causing a worldwide shortage. "I know they are sorry for the inconvenience, eh," said Canada enthusiast and member of Team Minnesota Kaia W. "I am excited to see their buttons at Nationals, and the rest of the world can have zinc again in 2027."

FCAT TENSIONS AT ALL TIME HIGH

As the first official FCAT (Fun City vs. Awesome Town) competition nears, rumors have circulated of FCAT mayors, Marley and Olive, already strategizing ways to win each night. While not confirmed, but highly likely, it also seems that students Zev B. and Cecelia R. are in kahoots with their respective mayor with sources saying "they will stop at nothing until they win the entire thing." Tensions are already brewing and it is forecasting to be quite the escalating rivalry this year.

LEGENDARY CREATURE SPOTTED DURING CAMPUS TOUR

Reports from yesterday's campus tour indicate that the illusive and famous Loch Ness Monster was spotted in McKeldin Mall's fountain. Eyewitnesses claim that "Nessie" was seen enjoying the cooling water during the hot afternoon

"I have heard mythical creatures like to summer in Maryland" reports Cullen P., a noted cryptozoologist. "I was not aware that Loch Ness and McKeldin Fountain were connected, so I am glad I took the campus tour to learn more about deepwater transatlantic passages possibly on campus."

TEAM MN DONATES SONG RIGHTS TO MS. RACHEL

For those of you that have been to Nationals before, you may have fond memories of the beloved "Banana Dance" of Team Minnesota. However, after many months of negotiations, we have donated rights of the dance to Ms. Rachel, in an effort to bring joy and happiness to an even greater number of youths.

What does this mean? While we won't be having any dancing bananas at Nationals this year, the future of the youth is in good hands and whispers of "peel banana, peel peel banana" may still be heard in the halls of Easton.

Ms. Rachel has already earned over 1.4 million views on her version of the iconic banana dance

TALES FROM THE ROAD

The first day of van travel brought several hours of downpouring rain, Chicagoland traffic jams, tornado watches, and flooding roads.

After wringing themselves out to dry, Sarah and Sammi Jo left the hotel Friday morning to find a double rainbow perfectly arching over the van. Taking it as a sign of good luck, caffeine was consumed and the rest of the drive was done in sunshine and humidity. The only dampness remaining was the humidity levels in College Park upon arrival (with real feel temps of 103°).

All props and exhibits remained dry and safe during travel, we promise.*

DORM OF 10,000 LAKES

After a long, arduous, journey to reach the comfort of their dorms James H., Robin C., Peter L., and Emmett L. were shocked to discover that their room had been rudely flooded by their dehumidifier. What should've been a warm welcome to their new digs for the week turned out to be a decidedly unwelcome reminder of home, an abundance of lakes on their floor. Commotion rippled through the fifth floor at a breakneck pace with students, teachers, and History Day staff alike rushing to find a solution and prevent the spread of the hullabaloo.

Luckily their discovery saved the rest of the delegation from a disaster of epic proportions. By testing the waters and bravely wading where no one had dared to tread before, these students serve as both a cautionary tale and example of going with the flow in the face of hot water.

TEAL TORNADO OF TEAM MINNESOTA BUYS UP THE ENTIRE INVENTORY OF LOCAL DOLLAR TREE STORE #4137, LEAVING SHELVES ENTIRELY EMPTY IN THE AFTERMATH

On Saturday afternoon, dozens of Minnesota students invaded the local Dollar Tree. By the time they'd left, everything from treats to toys to decorations had been taken, leaving the store entirely empty! "Careful, don't let the staff see our plans for dorm decorating!" Kavya K. was overheard whispering conspiratorially to sister Shaunya K. while carrying an armful of supplies out of the store.

In response to this tragedy, the University of Maryland has rebranded.

YOU SEEM PRETTY SAD FOR A GROUP SO IN LOVE WITH HISTORY DAY

With Olivia Rodrigo's new album released yesterday, did anybody on Team Minnesota notice a certain photobomber at the front of our airport photo??? Olivia Rodrigo seems to have snuck in close to Kayden C. Malayah B., and Rylee L. - seemingly going undetected by the public and our group at the airport. How does she do it?

Olivia notably was on Jimmy Kimmel last night performing her new single "stupid song", she must have taken a red-eye flight to make it to MSP on time for our picture. Thank goodness she got her driver's license: you need a REAL ID to travel when you're over 18! Though we took our video three times shouting "it's time to go to History Day!", Olivia Rodrigo is missing in all our video footage. It's as if she was never there, I almost get déjà vu— is she a vampire? If she is, I hope you don't drop dead.

I hope this remains her favorite crime and Team Minnesota wishes her the best on her new tour this fall. Wish us luck in the coming weeks Olivia, we'll be rooting for you!

HEARD THROUGH THE GRAPEVINE

"I think my sweat has sweat."

"I'm going to break the world record for fastest complete button collection."

"Do you think the other people on the flight had FOMO about our matching shirts?"

"They have 468 porta potties lined up in front of the White House lawn. They might have to use golf carts to drive people so there isn't a porta potty traffic jam."

8TH GRADE CLASS TRIP ATTEMPTS GROUP FLIGHT TAKE OVER

It wasn't until Team Minnesota was boarding for our group flight that we discovered the reason only 85 of our 190 Minnesotans were able to get seats on the group flight - an 8th grade class field trip to D.C. Upon further inquiry, we discovered that this group wanted to join Team Minnesota king the same flight would do the trick.

CAMP HISTORY DAY DAILY BULLETIN

BUTTON BONANZA!

As the button trading frenzy kicks off with a bang, students all over the nation are scheming on getting the rare and limited buttons from South Korea, Azerbaijan, and Guam. Abby H. specifically mentioned that "there are only 15 buttons total for each country" with Isabelle N. adding "I'm tempted to resort to bribery because of how hard it is to get a button from Azerbaijan!"

Wheeling and dealing with the best of them in the registration line, Divya T. swiftly secured a nearly complete collection, only missing the coveted ultra rare Azerbaijani button. "Okay, are we SURE there are even any buttons from Azerbaijan? They don't even go here."

CELEBRITY SINGER SPOTTED ON CAMPUS

International superstar Harry Styles was spotted backstage of the National History Day opening ceremony. Learning that National History Day students would be singing a spirited cover of One Direction's "History," Styles reportedly had to hear it for himself.

He was very impressed with Dylan K.'s singing abilities as Dylan took it upon himself to lead the entire National History Day student base in song. "It quite honestly brought me to tears," Harry stated. "I couldn't have asked for a better cover of our most beloved song!"

TECTONIC TALENTED TEAM-BUILDING TARPS TOTALLY TERRAFORM TERRAPIN TERRAIN

The Denton Community on the northeast side of campus has been transformed through the terrific team-building of the rival municipalities of Fun City and Awesome Town. Tensions reached an all time high and the resulting heat of competition created a catastrophic first win for Fun City. Lily S., citizen of Fun City, in her post-game interview said "Awesome Town... more like not-so-awesome Town." In response Malai W., resident of Awesome Town, proclaimed "Fun City isn't fun, and I heard their mayor wasn't even elected democratically." Rest assured citizens, you will all have your chance to redeem yourselves or maintain your top dog status at the next FCAT Faceoff this Tuesday.

JUNIOR DIVISION STUDENTS SLAY THE HOUSE DOWN BOOTS

Not only were they slaying the house down boots but also blowing the roof off and knocking the socks off their judges, maybe even impressing someone in a very strong and favorable way.

This Monday, the Team Minnesota Junior Division students absolutely wowed their judges away. We heard that Alice M. impressed her judges so much that their judge's eyebrows spontaneously flew off. Wisps of hair were seen blowing in the wind all over campus today.

Judges in every category were amazed by the outstanding work of our students. Millie K. reported that her judges were so impressed with her group's website that they broke into song and dance. "It's okay, at least we got some inspiration for the student dance tonight!" said her partner Zella S.

EASTON HALL WEATHER MIMICS MINNESOTA

After 2 days here in Maryland, Team Minnesota is starting to feel right at home in Easton Hall.

The weather in the dorm rooms is very similar to what we are used to in Minnesota. From one room being hotter than Mr. Beast's Amusement Park in Saudi Arabia to next door being colder than the Freezie Pops (on the 6th floor👁️) or a room being cool in the morning and stifling in the late afternoon, it is making some members of our team homesick.

Leona states: "The weather in this dorm is just like MN weather, it changes every five minutes."

HEARD THROUGH THE GRAPEVINE

"I don't want to over sell it, but I sold it!"

"I think I'm just going to keep telling people a man stole my last Singapore button."

"THE people who want to sell you American Samoa are downstairs, follow me."

"I think one of the projects in our judging room was a Minnesota project and I thought, oh great, here we go."

"Uhhh, can I honk the horn?"

TEAM MN DOMINATES THE DANCE FLOOR

Last night at the Student Dance, team Minnesota really took charge! As the students entered, they were greeted to a red carpet entrance, where paparazzi swarmed each student feening for the tea. One paparazzi asked Dorothy K. "Who are you wearing tonight?" "I'm wearing Givenchy."

While students were enjoying the camaraderie, there were several who really went for it! Elsie J. led an enormous group in the Cha Cha Slide, while Zarita A. demonstrated her breakdancing skills with The Worm!

TEAM MN PITCHES NHD THEMES

Although the 2027 National History Day theme is set as "Innovation in History," Team Minnesota has ideas in mind for future years. "How about 'Oh Naurrrrrr in History'?" proposed Isabelle N. On the other hand, Jack G. insisted that "Not-So-Famous People in History: Who Aren't They?" would be ideal. The CHDDDB editors will be petitioning NHD in favor of both ideas for 2028 and 2029. Start thinking up topics!

SENIORS SHOW WHO'S BOSS

With the best weather that Maryland has had yet, everything seemed to align perfectly for team Minnesota seniors. It was reported that the Tawes building on the north-west side of campus had no power until Amber H. walked into the building. "She was like a shining star and she definitely shined like a star in her performance" said her roommate and audience member Jayda B.

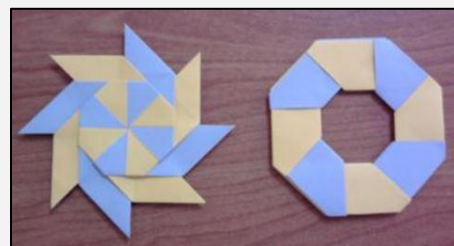

Not too far in Jimenez, Om G. was seen saving a cat from a tree before absolutely crushing his paper interview. The cat happened to actually be Bill Nye the Science Guy's cat. He was so grateful he gave Om a personal tour of his labs.

Addison M. and Maya M. walked into their interview not knowing that their documentary would end up being nominated for an Oscar. "We were absolutely awestruck," said their judges. "A never before seen spectacle."

Tinsae O. will attend the White House Historical Association Writer's Workshop on Wednesday afternoon and then receive a tour of the facility.

Charley R., Dessa S., Lily S., and Marley H. are showcasing their exhibit at the National Museum of American History until 5 pm. Visit them!

CRAFT NIGHT INCOMING

Bring your snacks and join us tonight at the third and final Team Minnesota activity in the 6th Floor Lounge. Rebecca and Maria will be making friendship bracelets, folding origami (including, but not limited to ninja stars), and creating beaded lanyards.

TEAM MINNESOTA JUNIOR FINALISTS CAUSE A FRENZY

Team Minnesota had three Junior Group Projects make it to finals last night. Amelia D. and Olivia W. with their documentary on Sesame Street, Dorothy K., Elsie J. and Henry W. with their performance about Columbine, and Emmett L., Peter L. and Robin C. with their documentary about Lead Safety. Their collective brilliance caused such a frenzy that security had to be called to escort them all safety out of Stamp.

Amelia D. was overheard asking Olivia W. "Did you see the mentors doing cartwheels down the hall after our doc?" Parents and teachers were also seen boogying around Stamp highlighting Minnesota pride and embarrassing all students. Congratulations to our Junior Finalists!

AWESOME TOWN TIES IT! FC SUSPECTS FOUL PLAY

Fun City and Awesome Town went head-to-head for the second time in "Clap, Snap, Grab:" a series of single elimination full-team faceoffs to be the first to grab a coveted Dum Dum lollipop. Though teammates in History Day, FCAT rivals Theodore Y. and Jonte C. did not hold back, moving with speeds never before seen in FCAT's storied history. In the end, Charley R. secured Awesome Town's victory with the twenty-point Tootsie Pop. "What Tootsie Pop? Nobody said there would be a Tootsie Pop! Seems pretty suspicious," remarked Marley H. of Fun City when asked for comment. The teams will break the tie Thursday night. Be there!

NEW SITE IN TOWN! HISTORY DAY MONUMENT TO DEBUT IN D.C.

Hot news, just in! Minnesota History Day is getting a limited time only dedicated monument in Washington D.C. and the debut is this upcoming Saturday - the day after we leave. 😭 They're keeping it up for one year and taking it down just before Team Minnesota returns in 2027. Kendall M. stated "I get it, they just want a History Day presence all year-round, they're going to be sad when we leave."

Turns out, Abby H. was consulted on the design of this monument and decided to add wax figures of Team Minnesotans to the Lincoln Monument, stating, "We're going to look so cool!"

MARYLAND HEAT INSPIRES NEW TRENDS

Team MN members have gone viral with their new fashion trends inspired by the heat and humidity here in College Park.

Ella B. and Amalia K. have been seen in the lounge filming product unboxings of the latest NHD warm weather merch that's all the rage. Make sure to use code EllAm20 for 20% off!

Meanwhile Keegan C., and Emily T. have all been scouting campus while streaming their coveted Day in the Life for their record beating 2 million viewers. "Say hi to chat, Testudo!"

THE MINNESOTAN GLOW REVEALS NHDough SUPERPOWER

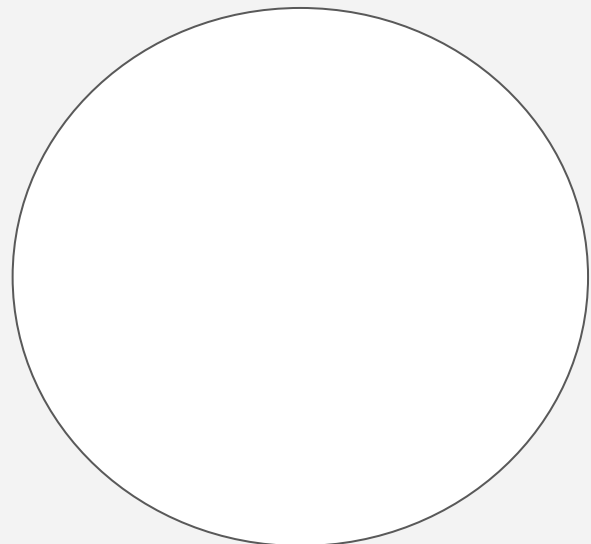

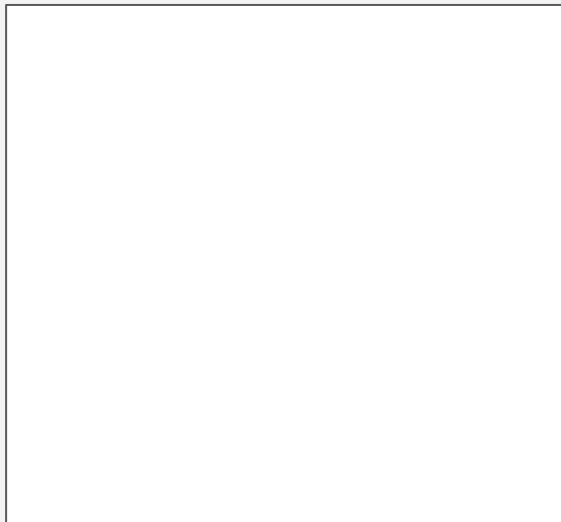

With over 190 members of Team Minnesota present at the University of Maryland this week - scientists are concerned about the possible health ramifications. We overheard a phone call from NASA to Lanaya R. where they warned her about the dangers of so many Minnesotans in one place outside of our beloved state. Apparently, the results are Radium Girls-esque where Minnesotans begin to glow due to the extreme heat.

The only treatment for the Radium Girls glow is a sweet treat from the Maryland Dairy in Stamp Student Union. Who knew that NHDough was medical grade and FDA-classified as a treatment for the Minnesotan glow.

BREAKING NEWS! MAYOR MARLEY CAUGHT IN SCANDAL

Rumor has it mayoral head of Fun City has been poaching citizens from Awesome Town! After Awesome Town's historic win, a tip came in that Lucia B. was approached to join Fun City. "It could be an honorary membership? Awesome Town is pretty fun. Wait can I say that?" Lucia stated.

Mayor Marley has refused to comment on the issue, remaining in her fifth floor dorm after the Team Meeting. Ruby P. of Fun City will not take the slander. "Fun City would never be caught in a scandal! Fake news!" When asked, Mayor Olive of Awesome Town scoffed and did a backflip in response. How do our reader's feel going into Thursday's game?

HEARD THROUGH THE GRAPEVINE

"Do you have any international buttons? I will give you anything you want for one."

"They had fried plantains for like, 3 seconds!"

"See that Bowling Shirt? That's Minnesota, they showed UP this week!"

"Thailand is here! We gotta get those buttons!"

"Yes. The choice is between bacon, a Maserati, butter balls, or George Washington."

THE CURSE OF BEING A MINNESOTAN

By Guest Author Zella S.

When people hear where we are from they always say the same things - check the ones you've gotten and see if you can get them all!

- ✓ Is it actually that cold?
- ✓ The land of 10,000 lakes.
- ✓ How are you doing with the heat?
- ✓ Of course you are.
- ✓ Min-ee-so-tah.
- ✓ Oh I already have that button.
- ✓ Oh I was in Minnesota last year. There was 10 ft of snow!
- ✓ My (really-really distant family member) lives there!

THESIS MANDELA EFFECT EMERGES

By Guest Author Zarita A.

Several Minnesota students immediately forgot their project thesis after their judging session was over. They now believe that each and every project is upon the impact of bananas in history. Few remain who remember the "thesis truth." One student seemed to forget mid-interview, stating, "Bananas are pretty good, actually."

HIGH SPAM DEMAND CAUSES HYSTERIA

While reports from Yahentamitsi Dining Hall have been favorable all week, there has been a recurring whisper campaign that is growing louder with each meal. It is rumored to have been started softly on Sunday by Leona L.S. and has grown to a fever pitch by Wednesday. Where, oh where is the SPAM? Beatrice C. has noticed an increasing wide eyed panic in the diners as they frantically search for this tasty treat.

Charley C. says "Panic, schmanic! Team MN is here to deliver, and we will save the day!" We will be proud to bring a delightful variety of SPAM products to please every taste. A word of caution though, please don't try to eat the signs, as they will not be the actual product displayed.

SENIOR FINALISTS SO WOW

Today our Senior Finalists graced the National History Day stage again and absolutely gobsmacked the audiences with how wonderful their research and presentation was. Sara R., after leaving the room announced, "one of the judge's socks literally flew off!" Her partner, Helen C., added "it was kinda gross, but the standing ovation at the end made up for it."

Shaunya K., who presented her documentary on the Indian Child Welfare Act, and Amber H., who performed a piece on the Iron Lung, each clearly knocked it out of the park too, as the audience was left mouth agape at their skill.

@MNHHistoryDay

THANK YOU, TEAM MINNESOTA!

What a lovely week we have had - and all because of you! Team Minnesota, you have all been so caring, energetic, empathetic, and genuine. All us staffers and mentors are incredibly grateful to have spent time with you, learned from you and your projects, and supported you in the ways we were able. We hope this week was meaningful and exciting for you because it sure was for us.

Team Minnesota

Historians

Yahentamitsi Dining Hall at UMD was truly a great experience! From the cheesy scrambled eggs and french toast sticks at breakfast, to the baked potatoes and grandma's mac and cheese at lunch and dinner - Yahentamitsi chefs truly outdid themselves. Divya T. stated "The fresh garlic bread alone added an extra +1 star!" Notably, no spam was present? Not one flavor AT ALL, which is a little sketchy when Minnesota is the mother state of Spam. All week Tinsae O. was searching for one chef who would slide her a can of spam "PLEASE!!! I BEG YOU I'D BE FINE WITH JUST ONE CAN!!!" but noooooooooo apparently Spam is "unpopular" and "not served here." Just plain rude. This led to Divya T. taking away the extra star from the garlic bread and we're back to a regular five. Overall, a yummy experience but be warned - there is no Minnesotan spam.

TEAM MINNESOTA WOWS SENATOR SMITH

Fresh from a vote in the Senate, Tina Smith was blown away by Team MN's size and excitement! Ruby D. and Sofia Y. exemplified this enthusiasm despite being stuck on the train, phoning into to ask and answer plenty of questions.

In the end, Smith was so impressed that she vowed to introduce a bill naming History Day a federal holiday. While we're flattered, Aedea W. was quick to point out it would be impossible. "History Day isn't just a day. It's an experience!"

NHD REVEALS NEW PROJECT CATEGORY

We don't want to spread rumors, but we have it on good authority from Salina M. that NHD will announce a new project category at this year's award ceremony. The excitement is high among Team MN members when they learned Synchronized Swimming will be a new option for their NHD projects in the future. Eh Pway S. excitedly shouted: "Yes, I have been preparing for this all week. Let's go!" Teela J. exclaimed "This is perfect for students from the Land of 10,000 Lakes!"

HEARD THROUGH THE GRAPEVINE

"I have a P.h.D. In History Day."

"I went to grab a Dum-Dum and I accidentally held hands with someone."

"Jim Henson will console me."
