Isolated Armies on Far-Flung Outposts Still Battle Despite Trouble

MACARTHUR ADVANCES

Business Starts Again Thursday

City, County Building Remains Closed

Virtually all business in Duluth was in suspension today in celebration of victory o'er enemies.

Business will be resumed tomorrow in town. Most shops, clothing and other stores, were open and business was fairly brisk.

The city hall of St. Louis county and the courthouse, offices of the county treasurer and the recorder of deeds in St. Louis county also were closed today as well as today.

The post offices will operate without change today. Post offices in all mail service will remain open.

RANKS, lacking the public interest in the war, was closed today. It will open tomorrow.

The request by the Board of Trade to open the post offices for the mailing of war materials has been turned down by State authorities.

TO STORES OPEN: Page 4

Industry Eyes Peace

Management of Duluth industrial plants will soon have an opportunity to resume operations without fear of orders to cease production.

The city for the past two years has been in a state of war, and its industries have been subject to the same problems as those of the nation.

It was reported today that there were no plans for the resumption of industrial activity before September 1.

The North Shore and South Shore industrial districts should be open by then, but it was not known how many plants would actually resume operations.

The MorrisLive & Shipbuilding Co., one of the largest shipbuilders in the world, announced today that it would resume operations on September 1.

TO SEE INDUSTRY: Page 1

Bright Labor Future Seen

The entire future of America's defense is dependent on the success of the management of labor. Dr. John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, has said that the industry is the key to the war.

The coal miners have shown that they are prepared to work hard and long to contribute to the war effort.

President Truman has said that the coal miners are playing a vital role in the war effort.

TO SEE INDUSTRY: Page 1

WAGES

This Is No Holiday

The continued war is a test of America's ability to manage labor.

The miners have shown that they are willing to work for a wage that will help the war effort.

The President has said that the miners are playing a vital role in the war effort.

Britain and the United States have agreed to continue their support to the war effort.

Britain's support is vital to the war effort.

The current rate of inflation is at 7.8 percent.

The cost of living over the past year appears to be at 7.8 percent.

A V-J DAY HALTED

INVASION END

Just as in Southeast Asia, Japanese forces in the Philippines were unable to go into the Philippines.

President Truman announced today that the Philippines would be left under Japanese control.

TO SEE INDUSTRY: Page 4

Flashes

The Japanese forces in the Philippines were unable to go into the Philippines.

The invasion of the Philippines was halted.

The President announced today that the Philippines would be left under Japanese control.

TO SEE INDUSTRY: Page 4